THE LAMBTON WAY ✓

To be an educational institution is to be entrusted with the future. That is the simple truth that has informed every aspect of this Strategic Plan – a plan that shows us where we’re going and, just as importantly, the way we’re going to get there.

We call it the Lambton Way.

The Lambton Way is the ethos that underpins everything we do. This includes big picture work like curriculum development, design of our new and renovated spaces, enhanced focus on wellness supports, and employee recognition. It also encompasses the smaller day-to-day details, like the way our people will pause what they’re doing to make sure students, clients, or guests get where they need to be.

With a new Strategic Plan comes the opportunity to ensure our vision, mission, values, and commitments are grounded in the Lambton Way. It’s this approach that ensures education at Lambton College treats students as whole people, developing their academic and occupational potential alongside their wellness, social acuity, and global citizenship. It positions us to anticipate and meet the needs of our communities through a collaborative approach to education, research, and workforce development. And it enables us to cultivate caring by modeling it in how we treat our students, clients, and each other.

To ensure the Lambton Way is a lived culture, we have distilled it into a working definition that can act as a touchstone for everything from institutional decision-making to the actions of employees every day.

It is through that lens that we are proud to say the Lambton Way is our shared responsibility in leading with kindness and compassion, exceeding the expected, and shaping a healthy, inclusive, and prosperous future by:

Centering the holistic success and wellness of our students, who bring the standard we set into our industries and communities

Maximizing the impact of our research clients, who drive social, economic, and environmental innovation for local and global populations

And empowering our people, who make it all possible.

At Lambton College, we have the immense privilege and responsibility of working at an educational institution where a job well done translates to lives well lived, for ourselves and so many others.

We wouldn’t have it any other way.

“

I was nearing the end of a long drive home to Sarnia when our beautiful tower came into view, illuminating the night sky. It reminded me of a lighthouse, and that struck me as a symbol of what we want to be at Lambton College: an enduring beacon of safety, purposeful direction, and always, always hope.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT AND CHAIR

Every year, Lambton College is the backdrop for outcomes that might seem nothing short of miraculous. After all, this is a College where we believe every learner deserves to dream, and that every dream can become a career. Each June, we watch as graduates cross our Convocation stage with tears in their eyes for the self-doubts, barriers, and everything else they overcame, forever part of their stories but – credential in hand – becoming part of their past.

But for all the extraordinariness of the results and the diversity of our students and their success stories, every one of them achieves what they do in the same, rather ordinary way: They take it one day at a time, steadily getting a little better incrementally until their compounded efforts culminate in something great.

We guide and support them in every part of this process, of course. It's a method we know well at Lambton College.

In the ensuing pages of this Strategic Plan, you're going to see crucial goals that are nothing short of ambitious, even verging on daunting. But it's important to remember that over the course of our last Strategic Plan, we galvanized our commitment to the students who entrust us with their educations and futures and the clients who entrust us with research and innovation, corporate and industrial training, hiring and workforce development, and community enrichment. We focused on our mission and continuously worked to elevate our own standards, and along the way, we cemented our global reputation for education and research with world-class facilities to match.

Yes, there was a huge range of accomplishments that took place over the last five years, and every one of them was achieved in the same, rather ordinary way.

As we commence a pivotal five-year period in Lambton College's history, there is no greater time than this to formalize our commitment to being the best at being better – consistently challenging ourselves to find small, incremental improvements, whether in our work or as individuals and members of this community.

We say this because what we really want our employees to see in the ensuing pages of this Strategic Plan is themselves and the impact they can have by simply striving to be a little better at every opportunity while surrounded by others who are doing the same.

This Strategic Plan is an affirmation of who we are and how we lead for our students and clients, our people, and our local and global communities. It's also a confirmation that we're ready to establish a stronger and more steadfast version of Lambton College.

In a way, you could say that with this plan, we're betting on ourselves.

What it will take is for every member of this Lambton College community to make that commitment to being the best at being better.

So let's go All In.
